

Vortexa and Rapidan Energy Group become energy and freight analytics partners

London, UK - December 8, 2022- Vortexa, the leading global provider of real-time insights across Energy Flows, Freight Fundamentals and Inventories Intelligence announces an analytics partnership with Rapidan Energy Group.

Rapidan Energy Group is an advisory firm specialising in market, policy, and event risk in the energy sector. Its research program harnesses information at the nexus of policymaking, corporate strategy, and portfolio management to create unique insights for its clients working in energy companies, trading houses, investment funds, and governments.

This strategic partnership will allow Rapidan Energy Group to benefit from Vortexa's market-leading analytics to support its research and analysis across coverage of global oil and gas market structures, fundamentals and price drivers.

“We are very excited to partner with Rapidan Energy Group. Their solid global reach as an authority in energy market thought leadership combined with Vortexa energy and freight analytics, will only strengthen this further and continue to deliver value to their customers.” Arthur Richier, Head of Strategic Partnerships, Vortexa.

“Rapidan Energy is pleased to work with Vortexa on this partnership. Our unique market insights and outlooks will be reinforced by Vortexa's cargo tracking and flow analytics. At a time when oil and gas trade flows are changing, this collaboration offers the potential for greater awareness.” Scott Modell, Rapidan Energy Group CEO.
